BANKING WITH BCLP WEBINAR: GREENWASHING IN FINANCE

NAVIGATING CLIMATE-RELATED FINANCIAL LITIGATION

Thursday, 23 May 2024

In recent years, banking and financial institutions have come under increasing pressure to demonstrate their environmental responsibility. Financial establishments are an important vector for the dissemination of eco-responsible behaviour. To ensure the sustainability and growth of green financing, financial institutions must consider climate-related financial litigation, such as greenwashing.

Our program will explore the potential risks for financial institutions that seek to publicise sustainable objectives and provide an overview of how your firm can protect against greenwashing claims in France, the UK, and Europe.

Join partners Élodie Valette, Ravi Nayer and Matthew Baker as they lead a timely discussion on how financial institutions can effectively navigate the risks and challenges associated with greenwashing claims.
